Ohio Republican State Convention -The Behring Sea Correspondence-Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

LAST SAD RITES.

New York, July 16th .- The remains of Beneral Fremont were laid at rest this morning in Trinity Cemetery. Distinguished soldiers, citizens of prominence and men who had been lifelong friends of the deceased were among those who attended the services in St. Ignatius Church. The body was dressed in black broadcloth. On the right lapel of the coat was pinned a badge of the California Pioneers, and on he left that of the Fremont Verein, organ zed in 1856.

The pall-bearers were General Sherman General Howard, Colonel Floyd Clarkson Mark D. Wilbur, ex-Governor Rodman L rice of New York, ex-Governor McCormick of Arizona (representing Rear Admiral Braine), William Colligan, James E. Nuttman, Francis D. Clark and Major George D. Edgar.

In accordance with Fremont's wishes, there was no display and there were no services at the residence. The body was taken to St. Ignatius Church and placed at taken to St. Ignatius Church and placed at the foot of the center aisle, where it lay in a handsome, black, cloth-covered casket, the silver plate on which had the following inscription: "John C. Fremont, Major-General, U. S. A.; born January 31, 1813; died July 13, 1890." The lower part of the casket was draped with the American flag and covered with wreaths of flowers and layed the upper half open showing the laurel, the upper half open, showing the face and body of the dead General. He was attired in full evening dress, with black studs in the shirt bossom The venerable face looked thin and worn, but the expression was natural, as if asleep. The hour set for the funeral services was 10 o'clock. Long before that time the little church was filled with friends Every one stopped a moment to glance at the face. His gray-haired comrades of the California Pioneer Association paused for several minutes as they passed by the casket, and were much affected.

Rear Admiral Braine was unable to attend. The relatives and immediate friends present were Lieutenant John C. Fremont, S. N., Colonel H. M. Porter and his wife, the adopted daughter of Fremont; Dr. W. J. Morton and Mrs. Morton, and Miss Bradley. In deference to the wishes of the family the funeral services peculiar to St. Ignatius Church, which is ritualistic

The services consisted of reading the lesson of the collects, the anthem and committal service. The choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee," "Lead Kindly Light," the latter having been a favorite with the dead General. There was no sermon or eulogy. At the conclusion of the service at the church the cortege moved up Fifth avenue and thence to Trinity Cemetery, where the remains were temporarily placed in the re-ceiving vault. The body will remain in the vault until final arrangements for its disposition are made by the family.

OHIO REPUBLICANS.

roceedings of the Convention Held at Cleveland. CLEVELAND, July 16th .- The Republican

State Convention met this morning. Ex-Governor Foraker, the temporary Chair-man, came upon the stage with Colonel Brinsmade, Chairman of the State Committee. His appearance was the signal for rolonged and enthusiastic cheering. At ts conclusion there was a short speech by

The ex-Governor was then introduced, and delivered an address. He said that the Republicans did not come out of the last contest very well, but from now henceforth et every Republican look to the front. The last campaign should be remembered only in so far as it teaches lessons of benefit for the future. My appeal is that you place the blame upon me. Whether it be just or unjust for you to do so I shall not stop to question. What happens to me or any other individual is of no consequence, in a political sense, to anybody; but what happens to the great Republican party is of the highest concern to all. No matter, there-fore, what might have been the causes, no matter who may have been at fault, it is all of the past. Away with everything that stands between our party and our party's triumph. He referred in eulogistic terms to Sherman, McKinley and Foster, and praised the administration of President Harrison and the work of the Republican Congress. Foraker's speech occupied nearly an hour in its delivery, and the speaker was loudly applauded at different points. The Convention took a recess until after-

When the Convention reassembled the committee on Permanent Organization named Governor Foraker for permanent Chairman. He declined, however, and Congressman A. C. Thompson was se-Nominations were then quickly made as follows: Secretary of State, Daniel J. Ryan; Supreme Judge, Thaddeus A. Minshall; Member of the Board of Public Works, Frank J. McColloch. A platform was then reported. It is in substance as follows:

It reaffirms the national platform of 1888; indorses President Harrison's administration; indorses the action of the Republican members in both houses of Congress in fulfilling the pledges of the party. The thanks of the country are due to the Republican committees and Speaker Reed for their action in amending the rules of the House. The Democratic claims that members may be absent parliamentarily for the purpose of defeating a quorum, and at the same time physically present to further and obstruct public business, is denounced as revolutionary.

The platform cordially indorses the administration of Governor Foraker, and denounces the Democratic Legislature for corruption, extravagance and partisanship; instancing extravagant appropriations, gerrymandering of Congressional districts, violating the rights of local self-government by the legislative reorganization of numerous towns and cities for solely partisan purposes. It violated the sacred rights ot the majority, when under the mask of pretended contest it robbed the people of a Lieutenant Governor and a citizen of an from the census supervisor of Chicago, office to which he had been legally elected. stating that his count makes Chicago's Pretending to be a party representative of the poor, it elected to the United States Senate a New York speculator and railroad magnate, whose only entitlement to office was his liberality in contributing money to corrupt politics, and whose residence in

THE STEAMER DISASTER.

Large Number of Bodies Recovered RED WING (Minn.), July 16th.—The doleful tolling of church bells is still to be heard in this city to day, the list of the recovered dead from the disaster having been greatly increased since yesterday. Eight bodies were brought up this morning. In the afternoon sixteen more were brought up and one was sent over to Lake City, and to night another boat-load arrived. Yesterday.

The scene at the lake shore, (the disaste having occurred two miles this side of Lake City, in Goodhue county), is a sad one. When the first bodies were recov-ered Sunday night and Monday morning, their faces were calm and peaceful, and showed little or no signs of having come to a sudden death. Not so with those found last night and to-day. All these were bloated and blackened beyond recognition, so that the clothing, jewelry and papers were the only way for their friends to claim their dead.

The warm weather and the shallowness of the water, together with the fact that several big steamers sent up heavy swells to-day as they passed up the river, brought the bodies to the surface very quickly. The strolling rowboats towed the bodies ashore, where they were identified as soon as possible, boxed and shipped to this city.

To-night another boatload arrived. This swells the list of recorded dead to one hundred, and it is thought about a dozen odies still lie in the lake. Eugene Sparks, of the Sea Wing, to-night entered an emphatic denial of the report that the Captain or any of the crew had been drinking. The friends of Sparks and Captain Wetheren are also indignant at the charge of drunkenness. The reported arrest of Captain Wetheren s true. A man who came to-night from Diamond Bluff, where the Captain's home is situated, says the Sheriff took Wetheren to St. Paul this afternoon, having arrested him at the instance of the United States

BEHRING SEA.

Why Secretary Blaine Has Withheld the Correspondence. NEW YORK, July 16th .- A Washington special says: An important statement has been made on excellent authority in explanation of the delay attending the trans-mission of the Behring Sea correspondence to Congress, in accordance with the resolution recently adopted by the House of Representatives. It is now understood that Blaine has caused the delay in order that an important dispatch which he has prepared in reply to Lord Salisbury's latest representations should appear among the documents when they are documents when they are made public. This dispatch was written by Mr. Blaine several days ago, and forwarded to Minister Lincoln for delivery to the English Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. It is the hands of the State officials, but courtesy between the two nations forbids the publication of any part of it in advance of its receipt by Lord Salisbury. World's Fair Site.

CHICAGO, July 16th.—An ordinance granting the use of the lake front as a part site for the World's Fair was passed tonight by the City Council. An amendment requiring the use of no less than 150 acres there, involving the filling in of at least 100 acres of the lake front at an expense to the city, was adopted. In some quarters it is predicted that an amendment will be presented preventing the use of the lake front, and that the fair will be held entirely in Jackson Park, six miles from the center of the city. Quiet Restored. CHARLESTON (S. C.), July 16th -A dispatch from Blackville says: The white people of Barnwell county have prevented any further trouble at the Kearse settlement. Most of the detachment of military who went to Kearse have departed. Their Captain to-day said: "I have not the slightest doubt but there would have been very serious trouble at Kearse had our squad not arrived promptly on the field and the riotous negroes dispersed. Some of them will be arrested."

Original Package Decision. TOPEKA (Kan.), July 16th .- Judge Foster in the United States District Court to-day. rendered an important decision in the original package litigation. Frank Mc-Guire, of Lyons, Kansas, received a wooden box containing fifty bottles of whisky, each bottle in a pasteboard box, and sold a number of these bottles. Judge Foster now holds that in opening the wooden box he broke the original package.

DENVER, July 16th.-While J. S. Jacobson and Mrs. John J. Huddart were rowing on Berkeley lake last night, their boat was overturned and both drowned. Mr. Huddart is at present in Salt Lake City. and is a partner in business with the dead man. The bodies were recovered late this afternoon. Jacobson was born in Chicago, where his parents now reside.

THE MARICOPA RAILROAD. Reported Interview Lately

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

Published. PHENIX, July 16th .- The reported interview by a morning sheet of this city with Alexander, Clerk of the Board of Super-Alexander, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, in which he is represented to have denounced as a fraud the Maricopa Railroad subsidy bill, just passed by Congress and vetoed by the President, and which, in a modified form, has again been introduced in both Houses of Congress, is now embedding the supervisor of the sup chatically denied by Alexander, and it appears that the reported interview was a mere subterfuge to destroy the chance of the passage of the bill now under consideration in Congress, and for which passage the people of the county are anxiously waiting.

In his denial letter Alexander says: "I want to say that the interview published in a morning paper was a falsehood in every particular. To begin with, I never had an interview with this paper. A reporter came to my residence Sunday, and he and myself engaged in conversation in reference to the subsidy bill. I told him that our conversation was not for publica-tion, and to this he agreed, and I then talked to him as an old friend, but the con-clusions reached and the deductions made and the inference drawn were wholly his and were never uttered by me.

"I have always been a strong and consist-ent advocate of the North and South Road. I did all in my power to assist, even to spend-ing some $40 for telegraphing to Judge Barnes in New York in its behalf, but I had my objections to the measure. I did not like the five-year clause, as I was afraid it would prevent the construction of the road. All my interests are here, and why should I be opposed to a measure which is calculated to be of such great advantage to this valley as the building of this road would be? I have tried to find Mr. Masten. I wanted to notify him that he was using my name without authority, and I wanted him to stop it immediately. Further, if Mr. Mas-ten should build the road he talks about it would only be to the north line of the county, as he has no intention of going further. I wish to say that in all this business I have been grossly misunderstood. am now, and always have been, a friend of the subsidy bill, and I ardently hope that it will become a law, as upon it largely depends the development of this valley."

After cautioning the girl, on pain of death, against making any outcry, he disappeared in the darkness. All this time the watchman had been sitting about fifteen feet from the girl's desk, on the wharf outside, and as he was notified of the occurrence he made search for the man, but no trace of him could be found. The robber begged the girl's pardon before he left, and said that he was out of money and had nothing to eat for several days.

BARBARISM IN CHINA. Men Put in Coffins and Hurried Away to Burial.

CHICAGO, July 16th .- Edwin Rexham, an English resident of China now in this city, tells the following story of the Chinese expedition against Formosa: At the approach of the Chinese army the Formosan savages fled to the hills, and that ended the campaign. General Chen-Tai returned with a small body of select troops by the steamer, leaving the rest to get back as best they could. Many marched overland, and some were sent in freight boats; with rations for one day. They were out zight days, and some thirty or forty starved to death, and from 250 to 300 died of fever. They landed at the harbor of Auping, where the most horrible scenes were enacted. Dying men were strewn about the decks. Consul sent an appeal to Chen-Tai, who responded by tendering grave-diggers. These added to the horror of the situation. According to an old custom, when a soldier dies his officer draws burial expenses from the Government, part of which goes to the dead man's comrades. This burial money was an incentive to most horrible atrocities by the grave-diggers. All the sick tain Cordiner had an examination this afternoon before the United States Commissioner and was held to answer in the bodies were cold. It is said that soldiers bodies were cold. Sensation Created, London, July 16th.—A sensation was created in the Peace Congress yesterday by Sir H. de Burgh Lawson, who accepted the chair. In his address he startled everybody by declaring that he was opposed to prayer at the opening of the sittings of the Congress, and he proceeded to give his reasons, causing no little discomfort among the clergymen and religious people present. "Religion," he said, "teaches us to love our enemies. Now the first thing a parent does is to place the eldest boy in the army, where he is taught to run his enemies through." The speaker went hrough a series of similar arguments and drew the conclusion therefrom that either religion or its expounders were a failure.

A SCHEME TO SHUT CALIFORNIA OUT

If the proposition to departmentize the exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair, for all States and countries, is adopted, California might as well step out of the pro- by the diversion of the current through cession. She cannot make a showing cred- the breaches. It is the duty, therefore, of itable to her unless she can group her ex- the authority claiming jurisdiction over hibits. The same may be said of all the new Western States. The idea is to have sixteen grand departments, and to distribute all the exhibits according to the character of the respective departments. If that is done California will simply be lost in the fair. She might be prominent as to her wines, and possibly as to her fruits, under the department plan, but beyond that it would be like looking for a needle in a haystack to find her exhibits among those of forty-two other States and as

As California is a young State, indeed but upon the border land of development, she ought to be privileged to exhibit in one building and group. The Centennial Fair at Philadelphia was notable for the State buildings erected upon the grounds and the State exhibits. At the Paris Exposition of 1878 States and nations were permitted to put up special structures, and many did so. There is no good reason why California should not be given leave to do so for the Chicago Fair. The United States Government itself is to have its exhibits grouped and in an independfor the Pacific States to occupy one building jointly, to be provided by them, thus forming the Pacific group, and making it a distinctive feature of the fair. This would probably be a better plan than for California to erect her own building. Something ample for the purpose, tasty and attractive, but not necessarily of great cost, ought to be put up by the Pacific States. Into that construction their woods might largely enter in the trimmings and form special features of the exhibit. But if the Pacific building cannot be secured. California can better afford to erect her ments, some of them separated by miles of space. In short, if the segregation scheme is to apply to us, the game will not be We are promoting a fair at Chicago for two purposes-to contribute our quota to the general success and the commemoration of a notable anniversary; to advertise the resources of this State and invite intelligent inquiry into our claims for greater desirable population. This later purpose more nearly concerns us. It may be said to be the motive power behind our scheme of exhibition. If that is defeated by segregation of our exhibits, the vital character of the enterprise, so far as we are concerned, is taken out of it as completely as if the heart were removed from the body of a human being. Rather than Chicago, and run an exhibition of our own squarely upon the basis of advertising the State. Moreover, there is no good reason for the department system. It was not a success at the late Paris Exposition; its adoption there reduced the United States fallen in the immediate vicinity. exhibition to such diminutive importance, that most Americans were heartily ashamed of it. Precisely that would happen to the California exhibit at Chicago if divided into sixteen parts, and placed in separate buildings and departments. It would be lost. If we stand out firmly in this matter we will win. The managers of the fair will not consent to California being shut out, for with her would certainly go Oregon, Nevada, Washington and probably Idaho, which States would suffer by the segregation scheme even more than California.

TO-NIGHT'S MEETING.

There should be a good attendance at the swimming-bath meeting to-night. Since the RECORD-UNION broached the matter proffers of land at low cost have been made, so situated that access to river water would be most economic and the grade so high that the tanks could be emptied by gravitation and in high water filled at small cost. On top of this comes an offer from a large manufacturing establishment fifteen feet beam, and is named the Adler. to furnish hot water, if the location be near the works, from the condensers of great motors, at a figure eliminating the cost of heating. It has been found also that the estimates of the RECORD-UNION were much too far over on the safe side, and that if two 40x80-foot tanks of wood, asphalt treated, are built, the whole cost of the scheme will not exceed two-thirds the total the Record-Union assumed. On all hands the idea of establishing swimming baths, to be controlled by a respectable company and kept for the use of reputable people, meets with hearty favor, and there is no question in any mind but that the stock will be taken as soon as and that if two 40x80-foot tanks of wood, that the stock will be taken as soon as offered. All that seems to be needed is a infinitely superior to the drastic cathartics of policy of polic start. The establishment of large, well-conducted swimming baths in Sacramento will be a beneficence of the best order. To swim is to practice an accomplishment that every man, woman and child of physical capacity should possess. It is at once sical capacity should possess. THE attempt of Chinese in this city the other day to retain a woman in slavery of the worst order, terminated in actual violence and the interference of the police. The girl had to be taken by force from her "owners," who did physical battle for retention. The case was one far more aggravated than that in New York a few months ago, which so stirred the press of that city, and so amazed the goody-goody people who have believed the California stories of Chinese slavery to be long-bow recitals and wholly unworthy of belief. We have become accustomed to such scenes as were described in our local colimns in the case referred to. In fact, we have become indifferent to them-to our shame be it said, and hence Chinese slavery is practiced in our midst with scarcely a protest, save that now and then some courageous people rescue a slave and give her the liberty to which she is entitled. J. H. Pond. The Board held a meeting to receive the bove, at which it was determined to cite Messrs. Pond and Dahl to appear before that body last evening. BOTH SIDES HEARD VERBALLY. President Chipman stated the object of the meeting, and Secretary Hart read the charges filed by Mr. Pond against Mr. Dahl. The latter was present, and handed a communication to the Secretary in response to the charges read. The communication PROFESSOR DAHL'S DEFENSE.

To the Honorable the Board of Education, Sacra-mento-GENTLEMEN: I am called upon to re-spond to complaint by Mr. Pond against my re-tention as teacher of French and Latin in the High School.

You will understand that I cannot reply with the same brevity that characterizes Mr. Pond's curt communication. The proceeding, I am informed, is unparalleled, and I am embarrassed, because I have not the knowledge of the particulars of these general complaints, nor of the proofs Mr. Pond proposes to adduce, ard because with the presumption of innocence in my favor the burden should be upon him to prove his charges.

Nevertheless, I thank you for the opportunity to reply, and beg your indulgence that you may o reply, and beg your indulgence that you may lear me. I desire to express my conviction of rour desire to do justice to your teachers, and o advance, above all things, the interest of the Without specification I cannot know what is meant by the charge that I am an utter failure as a di-ciplinarian. But if I surmise, I may say that discipline is an element in instruction. Your records show that I have succeeded as an instructor, and I cannot therefore be an utter "failure as a disciplinarian"

I have served you nearly three years. I first taught French in a half-day class. On the recommendation of your late P-incipal. Professor Anderson, I was promoted to a full day class, and to the teaching of Latin and French. For two years I have served you in that capacity. All my pupils have passed. Every one of them desiring to enter the University has done so without any matriculation examination whatever in studies in which I instruct.

At the close of the last year I visited the instructor in Latin at the University, and from him ascertained his ideas of system in teaching Latin. His views were such as I had entertained, and the result was a change somewhat in the system, or, for lack of a better term, the method, which had Mr. Pond's concurrence, and has been followed this school year, with, I trust, even greater credit still to the elements.

and has been followed this school year, with, I trust, even greater credit still to the classes. The class of last year was passed and four of the members entered the University. One of these, now in this city, whom your Board can interrogate if you wish, and whom in Latin composition I had the honor to teach exclusively, stands at the head of her class in the University, doing honor to your school.

My Latin class for this year has been approved for the University also. I submit that, so far as my competency is involved in this relation. and has been followed this school for the University also. I submit that, so far as my competency is involved in this relation, the record is one of which your Board has reason to be proud. The only failure of approval by the University Examiners has been in a study I do not teach, and I am convinced that no blame attaches to any instructor of your school for the failure.

Concerning French, I submit myself to any concerning French, I submit myself to any examination your honorable Board may desire, however severe. One of the best French scholars who has ever passed through your schools, one who is remarkably proficient, and who was one year in my class; Miss Nellie Siddons, has voluntarily written to me, saying that hearing an effort was to be made to supprant me, she had applied for the position as to French, but that she wished me to understand that as against me she was not and will not be a candidate. I take this to be a high compliment to my capacity to impart instruction.

In response generally to all the charges I point to the success of my classes; to the fact that the past year Mr. Pond has sent his class Latin exercises to me to correct, and that if I succeed I cannot be a failure in any element of the instructor's art.

I had anticipated soliciting the opinion of the instructors in Latin at the University as to the proficiency of the scholars from the Sacramento High School, but my correspondent replied that all are now away on vacation.

I have said that this is an unusual proceeding, and in that convection cell your attentions. I have said that this is an unusual proceeding, and in that connection call your attention to the fact that, by gossip and rumors in the air, it was known that an effort was to be made to prevent my re-election, and I am safe in saying that the genesis of all such rumors was Mr. Pond, and that they did not resolve into anything tangible until your body resolved to ask him to prefer his complaint to you and not to gossip. I submit that the circumstances are not to my discredit, but in my favor.

I submit, gentlemen, that the complainant is I submit, gentlemen, that the complainant is bound, in common justice, to show that my pupils taught themselves, succeeded without my instruction, or to admit that I have had their attention and that I have competently instructed them, since the record is that they have een properly taught.

It is charged that I am faulty in enunciation. It is charged that I am faulty in enunciation. To that I make the same reply—I have succeeded in properly instructing the youths committed to my teaching. I might cite my pupils before you as to that, but consider that your body and your Superintendent are the proper persons to do that. In me it would be an impropriety. I have taught languages over thirty years—in fact, all my manhood life. I have atmost wholly used the English tongue as the medium of instruction. I have never had a scholar fail or to be congitioned.

scholar fail or to be conditioned.

I wish here to say, that before the school there matters have not been brought. I would not permit it. Before the school there is no inharmony between Mr. Pond and myself. So far as I am concerned there is no feeling in the matter; the school has not, therefore, been af-iected by it. I can serve under Mr. Pond with entire adaptation to any regulations he may set p or advise.

That I do not have the attention of the class That I do not have the attention of the class or hold it, I unqualifiedly deny. If I do not gain their attention, how is it that my French scholars, for instance, attain especial proficiency? One of these is now about to go to the University to be examined in French, that being a specialty. That she will pass with honor I am positive, precisely as Latin scholars who have been in my classes have gone into the freshman class on the record.

Last year I had all, the Latin classes, except that part of the year a portion of the junior Last year I had all, the Latin classes, except that part of the year a portion of the junior class was given to Mrs. Tryon to relieve me. This year the school opened with a much larger membership. It began with four Latin classes, with. I should think, 30 per ceut, greater membership than the year before. It was impossible for me to teach them all and teach French also; Mr. Pond therefore took the middle class. Soon after he took the sonior, class—unprecessive so after he took the senior class—unnecessarily so, I think. I did not demur; he is in authority and I am not, and I know my duty, to obey. I will not be so uncharitable as to say that he did will not be so uncharitable as to say that he did this for the purpose of injuring me, since I do not know it. Still later I reported disorderly pupils to him, as in duty bound, but instead of suspending them as I requested, in my presence and that of other pupils he said he would not suspend them but would do something else.

That "something else" was to take them into his own room and organize them into another class. I submit, respectfully, that that was not sustaining my discipline. Subsequently disobedient scholars I sent to him and they were put into this class. into this class.

It is charged that I am ridiculed by my pupils.

Rut, as a teacher

It is charged that I am ridiculed by my pupils. I have no knowledge of that. But, as a teacher of thirty years' standing, I do know that no teacher, high or low, however reverend or amilable, escapes the wit or mimicry of some boys and girls; nor has Mr. Pond escaped, nor will he live long enough to be free from it. Whenever he bas been the subject of mimicry in my presence I have at one crushed it—re fused to hear it. My own self-respect and my knowledge of children forbid that I should permit it in my presence or otherwise, if it came to

HOPKINS ACADEMY, OAKLAND, July 12, 1890. Christian Dahl, Esq., Sacramento—My Dear Sir: Your note asking me four questions in reference to yourself as a teacher in the Secra-mento High School, during my Principalship, was received this morning.

That the answers may be more easily under-stood I copy them, and append my answer to each.

The original is at your command.]:

Answer—Yes. My resignation opened the way for not a few vexing problems. The recommendation I made seemed the easiest and best solution of them.

solution of them all.

Question—Did you find that I had any difficulty, material, in expressing, or rather enunciating English words to my class? Did not my class understand me?

Answer—The question surprises me! I have talked with you not a little, and never noticed anything of that kind to the best of my recollection. I should not think you adapted to teaching English, but cannot recall any one ever remarking that your pupils did not understand you, or that they noticed any difficulty you had in enunciation. To be sure you show that you are a foreigner by your accent.

Question—Did you ever know of my being ridiculed by my scholars? Did you ever consider my classes, or those in my room whom I had to supervise, as unruly or lawless?

Answer—No. I never knew of any of your scholars ridiculing you. It would not have been pleasant for them. You did not have to supervise any pupils except the small number in the class you were teaching. It is too long been pleasant for them. You did not have to supervise any pupils except the small number in the class you were teaching. It is too long ago to speak positively, but the class could not have been lawless. During that year our discipline caused us not the slightest trouble. It seems to me that once or twice I had to reprimard some girls in your class. But there could have been nothing serious, or I should not have recommended that you should have the Latin as well as the French classes.

Very truly yours.

W. W. Anderson.

I beg leave to call your attention to the explicit language of Professor Anderson. The discipline while I was under him did not cause the SLIGHTEST trouble, and he italicizes the words. Also, that in his time I had to supervise no outside pupils. Professor Anderson is recognized as a model disciplinarian, and one who would know any failing under him. who would know any failing under him. I re-gret deeply that because he does not wish to appear to be interfering, Professor Anderson feels restrained from expressing his views to reeis restrained from expressing his views to you concerning my capacity as a teacher.

Because of climatic conditions, and the invitation to engage in business, for which I soon found I was not fitted by habit and experience, I came to Sacramento. I resumed my vocation as a teacher, in private, when I discovered that business was not to my hand. The field for private teaching is here, however, very limited. I then solicited and obtained employment under you.

Here health has been restored to my family and here I have hoped to remain, as an Amer You will therefore understand why I solicit at your hands a thorough test as to capacity before you set upon me the seal of condemnation.

For these reasons I submit to the recital of my qualifications. I am sure you will pardon me therefore, if I yield to the advice of friends and cite to you my experience and recommendations as a teacher. I am an instructor in Latin, French, Spanish and German and have taught other branches and languages. Except while in Copenhagen I have always used the English language as the medium of instruction. I began to teach as third teacher in the West Indies, in Santa Cruz, in the high school there, in the year 1859. Next as second teacher. I taught in that way thirteen years. I was advanced to the position of Principal of the School in 1872. In 1877 I was called to the Principalship of the Government College of St. Thomas, and served six years—to the close of the school. Financial distress compelling its abandonment You will therefore understand why I solicit Financial distress compelling its abandonment by the Government, I was then made Superin-tendent of all schools in St. Thomas, and served one year, when I returned to Copenhagen and taught languages. In 1885 I came to the United I perfected myself in French in Paris unde I was elected for three years to the Lower House of the Colonial Council of Santa Cruz, and luring that time held the Chairmanship of the Committee on Education. In 1862 I visited the United States under official commendation to examine into its educational system. I made a report on the same that had approval. I had the honor to be sent out as official Commissioner to the French West Indies to report upon the system of sugar-growing and manufacture.

For your convenience I have caused this communication to be copied in typewriter manumunication to be copied in typewriter manuscript. Regretting, gentlemen, these annual elections, which it is the criticism of the world is the chief defect in your system of education, and suggesting that whether I am retained or rejected, you give your serious thought to the question of abandoning them, and substituting retention during good behavior and ca-pacity, as a means to lift your schools out of an annual tribulation. nnual tribulation.

I remain respectfully and sincerely yours,

Sacramento, July 15, 1890. Principal Pond replied that personally he had no ill-feeling against Mr. Dahl. He ON FRIDAY... knew him to be a scholar and a gentleman. But as a disciplinarian, however, he still insisted that Mr. Dahl was an utter failure. He recited instances of disorder in Professor Dahl's classes, and said he (Pond) was compelled to go to Dahl's room and chide pupils for their disorderly conduct. It has often been necessary for him to rebuke pupils for studying Latin, and reading other books while the Scriptures were be ing read. With reference to Professor Dahl's epunciation of English, Mr. Pond said he would leave it to the Directors to judge for themselves. He himself could scarcely understand him, and other persons had spoker

As to Professor Dahl having been ridiculed by his pupils, Mr. Pond said it was true, but that graduates from Mr. Dahl's classes would not talk to others on the sub ect as they had talked to him.

With reference to teaching the classics, Mr. Pond explained that he had taken the middle class from Mr. Dahl because of th latter's hours being too full of duty. He read a note from one of the professors i the State University, to the effect that unless there was an improvement in the Latin the graduates could not enter the niversity. That was received last year. He had taken the senior class in Latin rom Mr. Dahi because one of the young ladies came to him (Pond) with tears in her eyes and said they could not learn from Mr. Dahl. Pupils had purposely been disorderly in Mr. Dahl's classes in order that they might get transferred to his (Pond's) class. He had even given extra the Great Register. There were about sixty voters present. Mr. Toll called the meeting to order and stated its object.

B. N. Bugbey was elected Chairman and Thomas Humphrey Secretary. The Chairman thanked the meeting for the honor conferred, counseled harmony in the party, stated that the doctor thinks, stated that the company present were a good-looking lot of "boodlers," and urged all to stand together and work for the success of the ticket.

Leland Stanford to succeed himself as United States Senator.

Resolved, That we denounce any and all such efforts as inimical to the best interests of the Republican party and of the people, and we demand that specific pledges be exacted from the nominees for the Assembly from this county that, if elected, they will vote for Leland Stanford for United States Senator first, last and all the time.

A committee of five was then appointed to retire and report the names to be voted for Saturday. The names were: E. Comstock, H. A. Bell, A. Dittmar, L. Auker and T. J. Pennish. While this committee was out Lincoln White, N. N. Denton and others referred to the rouble between the others referred to the trouble between the committeemen from the ward-Messrs. Toll and Howard-and the prospect of there being two caucuses in the ward. Mr. White stated that no one knew of a resolution being passed by the County Committee calling for all meetings on Friday night. He gave M. A. Howard a scoring for his reference to the gentlemen present as being a "boodle" club, and denounced it as being an insult to all present. He further stated that Howard had said that he (Howard) had a ticket selected, but would not show the names until the Friday meeting, and that he was going to "put it through," etc. "That Howard was never known to do anything in politics except to his own personal advantage. The feeling of all present seemed to be that the idea of admitting only regular residents of the ward could not but be in the interests of square dealing. The committee appointed to select names, entered the hall at this time and reported entered the hall at this time and reported the following as being the persons to be voted for Saturday: Robert Hellman, Jacob Gerbert, J. There will undoubtedly be two tickets run in this ward Saturday, as Committeeman Howard has called a meeting in the New Pavilion for Friday evening. Howard states that the leading spirits in calling the meeting last night, which he claims was premature and not in accordance with the resolution adopted by the County Committee, are Royster, White, and Parker, who desire to put up a ticket in the interest of White for District Attorney; that the meet-ing was called by Toll without consulting him, etc. The prime movers in last night's meeting accuse Howard of having his tickets stuffed in the interest of F. D. Ryan as against White, and so on. From the start the campaign promises to be a lively one, and Saturday's primaries will be probably the liveliest held here in a long time. It is expected that opposition tickets will be run in every ward in the city.

Committeeman M. E. Hornlein, of the Fourth Ward, announces that there will be a caucus of the Second Precinct Repub licans to-morrow evening at Turner Hall.

RIVER AND HARBORS.

Report of Work Done on the Columbia and Willamette Rivers. WASHINGTON, July 16th .- The report of Major Thomas H. Handbury, of the corps of engineers in charge of the river and harbor improvements in Oregon and Washington, was received at the War Deparement to-day, and in substance is as fol-

Columbia river, in Oregon and Washington-The plan of the improvement is to provide a thirty-foot channel over the Columbia river bar, and was commenced in 1884. Good progress has been made, and of the $862,500 appropriated all but $21,451 has been expended. It is estimated that it will require $1,000,000, of which $500,000 can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year.

It recommended that this latter amount be appropriated for the construction of a canal at Cascade

Of that contracted for, it is estimated that it will cost $1,550,-000 to complete the projected plans, and that $900,000 of this amount can be profitably expended during the next year. Columia and lower Willamette rivers below Portland, Oregon—This project was to attain a navigable channel twenty feet deep at low water from Portland to the sea, being twelve miles of the Willamette river and ninety-eight of the Columbia. The work progressed satisfactorily and the depth was attained. Since 1877, when the work began, $5,416,000 has been expended On July 1st the amount available for the prosecution of the work was $778.021. It s recommended that $20,000 be appropriated for the next year, as it can be profitably expended.

Improving the Willamette river above Portland—This plan provides for the re-moving of snags and other obstacles in order to make easy navigation for light vessels from Portland to Eugene City, in all a distance of 186 miles. Since 1878, when the work was commenced, $184,500 mended that $22,000 be appropriated for the next year, and that it will require $12,- obstructions from the mouth to fifty miles above. About thirty miles of the work has been accomplished, and $11,000 has been expended since the work began in 1880. It is recommended that $4,000 be appropriated for the next year.

BRECKENRIDGE'S SIDE. Cl. se of the Argument in the Contested recommended for the next year.

Election Case. WASHINGTON, July 16th.-Representative Breckenridge of Arkansas made an argu-ment in his own behalf to-day before the House Committee on Elections, reading a brief prepared by ex-Attorney-General Garland. This paper attacked the subcommittee which visited Arkansas for its failure to take testimony proffered by Breckenridge; as, for instance, in the case of the ballot-boxes whose count was impugned. It set forth, further, that the record failed utterly to show that Breckenridge was not elected, but, on the contrary, it showed that he was elected.

Respecting Clayton's murder, it was perfectly clear that nothing more could have been done to find the murderer than had been done by the officers and people of the State. When be had concluded the brief Breckenridge proceeded to supplement it by a long statement. He had known Clayton twenty years. They had been neighbors and friends. They canvassed the district together. Their relations demonstrated that there was nothing in the charges made by Judge McClure of the terrible persecution of the Republicans in his district. Clayton's death had been a to issue an order making a reduction in fearful surprise to him (Breckenridge), as grain rates from Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas it was to all decent people in Arkansas. He believed that the Plummerville ballotbox was stolen by Republicans. The apparent object to hinge upon the stealing was a contest in case the House of Repre sentatives was Republican. Breckenridge, in the course of his talk turned his attention to Judge McClure, and scored that gentleman severely. Judge McClure closed the arguments in a brief speech, devoid of personalities, and treating almost altogether on the legal aspect of the case. He argued, in brief, that as the evidence showed that the ballots really cast were not preserved, it was competent to go behind them and take proof

DECISION RENDERED. Secretary Noble Decides in Favor of the Railroad Company.

Senator Frye Answers Secretary Blaine's

Letter on the Subject.

Washington, July 16th — Senator Frve, in reply to Secretary Blaine's recent letter, has written him saying, in part: "I assume that your views are contained in what is known as the Hale amendment; that you know, for instance, what the Latin Republics will receive of ours free from duty in compensation for free sugar I assume that the amendment was the result of a thorough investigation. The difficulty about it is this: The amount of sugar to be received from those States would be comparatively small, and the consumer of sugar would receive no benefit from it.

"Your letter to me extends this idea of reciprocity to Cuba and Porto Rico. I admit that if sugar is received free from these islands, as well as from the Latin republics, the people would be benefited and sugar would be practically free. But will Spain admit into those islands, free from duty, the list of articles named in that amendment? Of course, we could not enact a law more favorable to Spain than to the republics. Do you know what to the republics. Do you know what Spain would exchange free for sugar, and can you give a list of articles that she would receive? The better way, probably, would be to make a list. She would re-ceive the controlling one for all these coun-

He was seen again this morning and asked: "Are you at liberty yet to give me the names of the parties who are to be connected with the great enterprise, especially

"Arrangements have not yet been entirely consummated," said he, "but will be in two or three days at the most. Will Exceed the Revenues. WASHINGTON, July 16th.—Mr. Cannon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, emphatically denies that the appropriations of this session for the current fiscal year will exceed the revenues. He estimates the appropriations at $350,000,000, and says: "The ordinary revenues of the Goverment for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1890, are reported by the Treasury Department at $402,083,000. Spooner announced his intention to vote for the amendment reported by the Committee on Appropriations. The cost of irrigation surveys had been placed, he said, at $7,000,000. His own opinion was that the cost would be nearer $70,000,000. Under the construction given to the act of 1888 by the Interior Department (and which construction he indorsed as correct) lands had been withdrawn from settlement covering two-fiths of the area of the United States, comprising 1,500,000 square miles, or $80,00,000 seres. "About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it reviews the same trial of the it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way.
